WENDLING SAID of the salary, "I could care less myself, I'm looking forward to the future of Lakewood when it might make a difference. It could be a definite deterrent to good people running for office."
Both Gorman and John J. Dowling

Ice cream regulation asked

Alarmed by the number of ~~children injured while buying~~ treats from ice cream trucks, Lakewood council last week moved to restrict the vendors' hours and have city police patrol their actions.
Councilmen Mark R.
Magnotto and George J. Usher reported "statistics obtained from the police department indicate with the last 18 months" eight accidents relating to ice cream vendors have been reported in the city wherein nine children sustained injuries."

The councilmen added,
"Fortunately, there have been no traffic deaths."
Council asked the law department to draft legislation requiring two attendants on every ice cream truck, limiting the vendors hours of operation from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and placing enforcement of the restrictions in police hands.
"When viewed historically," Magnotto and Usher said, "there probably was a time when ice cream trucks were beneficial." Due to increased traffic and home freezers the pair said, "The benefits derived from these types of vendors are outweighed by the hazards involved."

Magnotto and Usher also pointed to "the chaos which is created by their chimes and bells," and "the exorbitant prices charged by these vendors clearly indicate that some limitation should be placed" on them.
